- Itinerary:

- Day 1: Arrival at Kathmandu (1300m)

Arrive at the Tribhuvan International Airport and meet our representative who will transfer you to your hotel. A light stroll or exploration of the Kathmandu City is perfect to end the day. Overnight in Kathmandu.

- Day 2: Drive to Pokhara (820m)

Today, we leave the Kathmandu Valley and drive to Pokhara. The drive lasts for about 7 hours and takes you through the Prithvi Highway. The Trishuli River and curvaceous hilly landscapes keep us captivating company throughout the drive. Pokhara is a beautiful valley with plenty of tourist attractions like the Lakeside, Phewa Lake, and Davis Falls. Overnight in Pokhara.

- Day 3: Drive to Kande, trek to Forest Camp (2,500m)

Initially, we drive towards Kande which takes approximately 40 minutes from Pokhara. The trek takes us through the lush greenery and into a forest clearing called the Australian Camp. After having lunch here, we head to Forest Camp. This is a campsite in the wilderness and comprises mostly of forests. There are no teahouses or settlements here. Overnight in Forest Camp.

- Day 4: Trek to Low Camp (2,970m)

The walk from Low Camp begins along dirt trails. We soon find ourselves walking through the lush forests and greenery. As we arrive in Low camp, we can see amazing views of the Mardi Himal (5553m) and Machhapuchhre (6997m). The trails are isolated from human settlements and are pristine in nature. Overnight in Low camp.

- Day 5: Trek to High Camp (3,550m)

The journey from the Low Camp to High Camp begins on a similar note as we tread on trails enveloped by a variety of trees. Our road takes us through Badal Danda along with amazing views of Annapurna and Dhaulagiri. The walk is relatively short and it takes only 3 hours. At High Camp, we can see traces of snow. The Annapurna Himalayas stand tall drenched in the whites of snow to reveal a stunning panorama. Overnight in High camp.

- Day 6: Hike up to Upper View Point (4,500m), back to High Camp

Today, we head to the Upper View Point. The trail to the base camp needs walking for about 6 hours and the track is pretty steep as well. As the name suggests, Upper View Point is an outstanding vantage point to enjoy the views of the Himalayas like Mardi Himal (5553m), Annapurna I (8091m), Gangapurna (7454m), and Annapurna III (7525m) among others. After visiting the view point, we head back to the High Camp. Overnight in High Camp.

- Day 7: Trek to Siding Village (1,750m)

Today, we trek to Siding Village. The trail to Siding is descending and takes us through the dense vegetation and shrubs which mostly comprise of oak and rhododendron. With the glorious Himalayas keeping us a hearty company, we divert from the previous trail to Siding Village. Siding offers great options for homestay and cultural experience. Overnight in Siding village.

- Day 8: Trek from Siding Village to Lumre and Drive to Pokhara

From Siding village, we shall head to Pokhara where the trek for the day shall end. Our initial trek takes us to Lumre which takes about 3 hours. Thereon, we head on the road to Pokhara. The drive takes about 2 hours and upon arrival in Pokhara, you can head to your hotel to rest. Later, in the evening, you can boat on the Phewa Lake. The reflections of the lush greenery and Mt. Machhapuchhre (6997m) make up for refreshing end to the trek. Overnight in Pokhara.

- Day 9: Drive to Kathmandu

From Pokhara, we shall drive back to Kathmandu. The drive takes us about 6 hours and along the road we can see the amazing view of Hills Mountains and the Trishuli River. We shall take a quick break at Muglin and, later, continue our journey to Kathmandu. You can enjoy visiting some of the nearest tourist attractions in the city while shopping for gifts and souvenirs along the way. Overnight in Kathmandu.

◦ Day 10: Departure to International Airport.

Today is your final day in Nepal and our representative will drop you off at the Tribhuvan International Airport for your final departure. We hope to see you again. Goodbye!
